SS20

Hedonism meets opulence for Spring/Summer 20 with a NEW collection for the free-spirited woman who longs to challenge expectations and showcase her individuality.

Drawing inspiration from the East, decadent shades of red with luxurious gold piping and embroidery detail evoke memories of the 'Forbidden City' in Beijing, for a regal touch that seeks to empower the Emma Wallace Woman to forge her own path and rule her kingdom. Meanwhile, vivid hues of blue in tunic styles, tees and denim compliment with a nod to the vibrant East that women who long to wander will crave.

Moving West, the new collection looks to the heady 70s where alternative style icons ruled the glittering dance floors. Unashamedly themselves, a touch of vintage glamour in the form of flared jumpsuits, draped silhouettes, striped prints and pastel shades add an element of the unconventional, showcasing a unique beauty that is truly individual. A chance to break out of the box, to make a statement and be remembered for all the right reasons.

Versatile details, including bows that can be tied in multiple ways, mean the Emma Wallace Woman can wear how she wants, offering a bespoke element for those who love to showcase a style all their own.

The brand's signature staple - the Kimono style jacket is reinterpreted in a khaki satin for a relaxed luxe take on a modern classic, whilst a hand embroidered denim jacket and pastel blazer extend the outerwear offering for those seeking covetable cover ups. In addition, the brand's commitment to asymmetric details and intricate yet wearable cut work that shows a subtle and sophisticated flash of skin continues.

With celebrity fans including supermodel, Coco Rocha and fashionista's Bip Ling and Rosie Fortescue, Emma Wallace continues to deliver designs for the woman who lives a life filled with adventure by offering a collection that will take the #EmmaWallaceWoman wherever she wishes to wander.
